DEDICATION

TO THE FATHERS AND MOTHERS OF THE TRINITY STUDENTS.

THIS, THE SEVENTH VOLUME OF THE

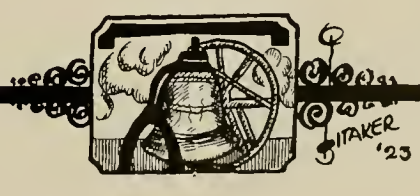
CHANTICLEER,

IS AFFECTIONATELY DEDICATED, WITH THE HOPE THAT WE

ARE NOT ENTIRELY UNWORTHY OF THEIR LOVE.

FOREWORD

WE ASK BUT THAT YOU REMEMBER AS YOU TURN THE PAGES OF THIS VOLUME OF THE CHANTICLEER THAT OUR HEARTS HAVE EVER BEEN IN THE WORK OF PREPARING THIS BOOK. WE HAVE NOT STRIVEN FOR LITERARY PERFECTION; WE HAVE TRIED ONLY TO GIVE YOU IN POEMS LIGHT AND SAD, SKETCHES MERRY AND GRAVE, PICTURES REAL AND FANCIFUL, A MENTAL PANORAMA OF TRINITY. IT IS OUR HOPE THAT SWEET MEMORIES OF TRINITY, AS YOU KNEW IT, MAY COME INTO YOUR HEART AS YOU READ.



Song of the Sons

(By PLATO T. DURHAM, '95)

O'er scarred and worn but unafraid,
Trinity, my Trinity,
I rest me in thy quiet shade,
Trinity, my Trinity;
To count again Love's golden store,
To glean the morning fields once more,
To dream the fair sweet dreams of yore,
Trinity, my Trinity.

Thy grave and golden sunset bell,
Trinity, fair Trinity,
Has wrought again its olden spell,
Trinity, fair Trinity;
Mine eyes are veiled in mist of tears
As from the far beloved years
The splendid vision re-appears,
Trinity, fair Trinity.

Speak thou again the master-word,
Trinity, brave Trinity,
Regird me with thy master-sword,
Trinity, brave Trinity;
Where Truth's brave battle-splendors shine,
Look thou for all the sons of thine
Along her foremost battle-line,
Trinity, brave Trinity.

BENJAMIN OTIS AIKEN
DURHAM, N. C.

Hesperian Literary Society (3, 4); Historical Society; Folklore Society; Y. M. C. A.; Class Football (2, 3); Class Basketball (3, 4), Captain (4); Class Track (3); Varsity Basketball Squad (4).

"Spunk is neither little or loud, nor yet good looking, but he is one of those good old easy-going boys who get there just the same. To prove that he gets there, witness his arrival at the "Merchant of Venice" with a fair co-ed by his side. Witness further that without the slightest trace of politics he was elected Captain of the Senior Basketball team, an achievement long to be remembered in the Class of '22.

"And, certainly, he was a good felawe."

ELIZABETH HOLD ANDERSON, A Δ Π
HAW RIVER, N. C.

Peace Institute.

Elizabeth is one of those rare gems that condescended to waste its brilliance upon us but for two years. Still it is those who are choice with their gifts who are the most appreciated, and so we are indeed grateful for those two years. And consider how unselfish we are to say that, for does she not entice many males with her good looks, attractive manners, and heavenly voice.

CLIFTON PITMAN ASHLEY, X T

LOUISBURG, N. C.

Chemistry Club (3, 4); Ex-Service Men's Club (3); Biology Club (3, 4); Scrub Faculty (3, 4); Assistant in Chemistry (3, 4); Secretary-Treasurer Chemistry Club; Hesperian Literary Society; Class Basketball (4); Y. M. C. A.

Ashley might have been a heartbreaker at the "shack", but that would be too cruel to the ladies. He is not so considerate of profs, however, and kills them indiscriminately. He is not one who hops "crips", either. Although C. P. belonged to the aviation corps for eighteen months, he seldom flies off the handle. A man without an enemy, he is at the same time the kind of a fellow whom any man would be proud to call a friend.

"Not a work spak he more than was nede."

CAROLYN AVERA, A Δ II

SMITHFIELD, N. C.

Y. W. C. A.; Brooks Literary Society; Delta Phi Rho Alpha.

Carolyn refuses to allow her nicknames to be published, and so we are denied that easiest of ways to describe her. She is a charter member of the "hard-boiled club" with a most amazing capacity for smelling vainly concealed eats, especially chicken bones. She is athletic to the core, but finds herself too much occupied elsewhere to spend much time in that type of manly pursuits. The Carolyn of today has almost convinced us that she is one of settled affections.

THOMAS ALLEN BANKS, Σ Φ E
GARNER, N. C.

Manager of Baseball (4); Business Manager of Archive; Hesperian Literary Society; Secretary Tombs; Theta Nu Epsilon; Red Friars.

"Tommy" is a man of many cares of these days, 'Twas not so in the bygone years, but with the Archive and baseball team to manage, even the versatile "Gentleman from Garner", as he has been affectionatley referred to in Hesperia, has no time to agitate the proper celebration of Armistice Day and the like.

"Ful wil biloved and famulier was he."

JOHN MILTON BARRETT
RALEIGH, N. C.

Trinity Park School; Hesperia Literary Sciety; Marshal (3), Secretary (4); Y. M. C. A.; Biological Club; Chemistry Club; Trinity Park School Club; "T" Club; Class Football (2, 3); Varsity Football (4); Class Baseball (3, 4); Varsity Basketball (1, 2) Varsity Track (2, 3); Athletic Council (4); Theta Nu Epsilon; Tombs; Red Friars.

Old "M. Ba't" is a man among a million. Trinity has never had a more staunch and dependable supporter. Although a member of the pick of college organizations, he was bigger than any party, club, or society, and is a worthy example of what a Trinity man should be.

"Bold of his speech, and wys, and wel y-taught,
And of manhood him lakked right naught."

EMMA BLANCHE BARRINGER, ΚΔ; ΦΒΚ

NORWOOD, N. C.

Associate Editor CHANTICLEER; Assistant Business Manager Archive; Student Government President (4), Treasurer (3), Council (2); President Brooks Literary Society; Athena Literary Society Secretary (2), Critic (3); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (2, 3); Undergraduate Representative (4); Class Vice-President (1), Class Secretary (3); Freshman and Sophomore Honors; Pan-Hellenic Council (3, 4); Secretary Folklore Society (2, 3, 4); President Parthenon Club (3); Student Volunteer Band Secretary (3); Dramatic Club; French Club; Eko-L; Delta Phi Rho Alpha.

Was there ever a girl in all the history of Trinity College who so ably shouldered the responsibilities of a really worthwhile college life, achieving the highest material honors, while at the same time winning for herself, by her friendly helpfulness to others, the greatest of all honors—the love and admiration of her fellow-students.

"A perfect woman, nobly planned,
To warn, to comfort, and command."

HORACE VERNON BEAMON

SAVAGE, N. C.

Columbian Literary Society; Commencement Marshal (1); Folklore Society; Sandfiddlers' Club; Biology Club; Chemistry Club, R. O. T. C. (1,2); Delegate Blue Ridge; Assistant Instructor in Biology; Y. M. C. A.

No one knows why Beamon came to Trinity, unless Bruin chased him out of the dismal swamp up this way. Nevertheless, he arrived in time to join the S. A. T. C. The Biology Department couldn't do without him. It is noticed that Beamon dresses up considerably when he goes on his Biology 1. No one knows the reason why, do you?

EDNA ELIZABETH BEASLEY

LOUISBURG, N. C.

Louisburg College; Brooks Literary Society, President (4); Folklore Society.

Beauty, grace and friendliness constitute the irresistible charm of Edna. She is ever faithful to her friends and her work, the latter being evidenced by the fact that she elected in her Senior year, English 5, 10 and 6-13. Edna is always very punctual in the performance of her duties, but to every rule there is an exception. Note: She chose to miss the thrill as well as the lectures of the first few days at Blue Ridge in order to attend the commencement reception last year—a corsage can often make a woman change her mind.

"The power of gentleness is irresistible."

ANNIE LOUISE BERRY

DURHAM, N. C.

Durham High School Club; Athena Literary Society Critic (3), Censor (2); Chairman Debating Club (2); Reporter for Chronicle (3); Brooks Literary Society Treasurer (4); Chairman Program Committee (4); Y. W. C. A.; Glee Club.

Who doesn't know from afar the contented hum of "Cupid's coupé?" Is it a significant fact that Louise is always driving? Careful, now! No insinuations! For Louise is a perfectly nice girl. She studies her lessons, collects money for Brooks Literary Society, and smiles sweetly at everybody. And as a member of the Senior Class—why, she is about the most important of all, for is she not the "power behind the throne?"

LYDA JOSEPHINE BISHOP

DURHAM, N. C.

Athena Literary Society Chaplain (3), Marshal (4), President (4); Durham High School Club; Glee Club; Y. W. C. A.; Current Events Club; Athletic Association.

Lyda did not live in the dormitory until her Senior year, but even so we long suspected her good qualities that become the more striking as we know her better. She has piled up honors from year to year until she has reached the important post of President of Athena—a good example of virtue rewarded.

WILLIAM STRUDWICK BORLAND, JR.

Π Κ Φ

DURHAM, N. C.

Durham High School; Class Basketball (1,2,3,4); Class Track (2,3); Captain Junior Track (3); Class Baseball (1,2,3); Assistant Manager Basketball (1,2,3), Manager Basketball (4); Theta Nu Epsilon; Beta Omega Sigma; Tombs.

"Billie" the versatile. He has been exposed to education, seduced to basketball managership, and addicted to amorous cogitations. His well crushed hat hides a "permanent wave" for which the ladies fall. Since Durham is about midway between California and Florida, "Billie" stops here occasionally.

WALTER LINWOOD BRADSHER
HURDLE MILLS, N. C.

Bushy Fork High School.

College life has been entirely too soft for Bradsher, Too busy enjoying himself to take time to worry about anything, he has come to the end of four delightful years at our pleasant winter resort and now stares out into the cold, hard world. We predict that W. L. will find a cozy corner and an easy chair, if such is to be found, however.

"What, shoulde he studie, and mak him-selven wood?"

EDMUND McAULEY BRUTON, B II
MT. GILEAD, N. C.

Mt. Gilead High School; Hesperia Literary Society; Class Baseball (2); Class Football (3); Historical Society; Folklore Society.

There were at one time two "Tubby's" at Trinity, but Dr. Boyd is away, and Bruton is putting forth every effort to make good his claim to the coveted "dip" that will end his career on the park. Tubby is a loyal supporter of Trinity College and all her institutions, especially the "dope shop." It is rumored that he has the Bull by the tail, as it were, in English.

"A lord ful fat and in good point was he."

WILLIAM JAMES BUNDY, Π Κ Φ; Σ Υ
FARMVILLE, N. C.

Hesperian Literary Society; Commencement Marshal (1), Marshal (2); Chairman Executive Committee (3); Secretary (3), Debate Council (4), Vice-President (4), President (4), Critic (4); Class Vice-President (3); Public Lectures Committee (4); Greater Trinity Club Vice-President (4); Historical Society; Folklore Society Vice-President (4); Y. M. C. A. Membership Committee; Pitt County Club President (3); Sandfiddlers' Club, President (3); Pan-Hellenic Council (4); Assistant Cheer Leader (3); Chief Rooter (4); Assistant Business Manager Archive (3); Editor Wayside Wares (4); Assistant Librarian (3,4); Assistant in English (4); Theta Nu Epsilon; Tombs.

Dick is a prince among fellows. He swears by Farmville, but Farmville sweats and swears because of him. That his influence has been felt is evidenced by his long list of achievements. This is a bad picture of Dick, but he boards at Alspaugh, and possibly this explains it. Possibly this also explains how he came to be called the "Champion Weenie Eater of the World." It will help your indigestion to watch him. Boy! he hides 'em. But he'd leave a weenie shop to "harangue the ignorant multitude."

JUANITA CAMERON, Α Δ Π
RAEFORD, N. C.

Y. W. C. A.; Athena Literary Society.

Juanita is a good old girl—good friend, good student, and good looking. It is our private opinion that she should have been in the beauty section. Her room-mate testifies that she sleeps exceedingly much and well. View that fact as you will—cause or result? Of what? Well, perhaps you can guess. Scientifically, Juanita is a perfect example of energy; potential rather than kinetic.

MARTIN REED CHAMBERS, X Γ
McConnell, Tenn.

Classical Club Secretary (4); Ministerial Band; Hesperian Literary Society; Freshman Debater's Medal (1), Chaplain (2); Intersociety Debate (3); Chairman Executive Committee (4). Vice-President (4); Undergraduate Instructor in Latin (4); Literary Editor Archive (4); Vice-President Tennessee Club (4); Cosmopolitan Club; Y. M. C. A.

Martin is a recently-resigned high official of the Moustache Growers' Association of Trinity College, and hails from Tennessee. He is furthermore noted for his poetry and also for the great nerve required to take two Greek courses at one time under "Cupid" Peppler, to say nothing of instructing a class in Vergil. In addition to all these arduous labors, Martin is a preacher of experience and holds down a regular appointment at present. A bishop in the making is Chambers.

MABEL CHERRY
Lilesville, N. C.

Y.W.C.A.; Athena Literary Society; Current Events Club; Student Volunteer Band.

In Mabel we find those qualities that are most sought after and so seemingly unattainable. She is one of the few girls who has been with us only one year, and yet at the same time has won such a place in our hearts. She never forgets a kind word or fails to do the loving deed; she walks the way of friendly hearts.

"For there's no jewel in the world so valuable and chaste as a virtuous woman."

ROSAMOND CLARK

STATESVILLE, N. C.

Eko-L; Y. W. C. A.; Athena Literary Society; Physics Club; Folklore Society; Dramatic Club; Associate Editor Chronicle.

Shall we look into the future, and shall we still believe that the pen is mightier than the sword? And shall we not truly believe that it is possible to relieve the existing conditions of a world like this by molding the public opinion of its magazine and newspaper readers with the stroke of a master pen guided by the heart of a woman like Rosamond?

"The secret of success is constancy through purpose"

LADY COMA COLE, Φ B K

DURHAM, N. C.

Durham High School Club Vice-President (3); Athena Literary Society President (3); Chronicle Reporter (2); Current Events Club (2,3); Secretary Dramatic Club (4), Chairman Play Committee Dramtic Club (4); Citizenship Club; Historical Society (2,3,4), Secretary (3); Y. W. C. A.; Glee Club; Assistant Business Manager CHANTICLEER; Eko-L; Class Secretary (4).

Lady Coma Cole is in everything, even in love, although she vehemently denies the last. Indeed, it is too bad that such a talented "lady" should indulge in that most feminine fault—falling in love, for what might she not accomplish as a prima donna, or a Ziegfeld Folly, or a stump speaker! She is an exception to the rule that beauty and brains don't go together—she is in the beauty section and in Phi Beta Kappa.

THOMAS BASCUM CRAWFORD, JR., K A.
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Assistant Manager Basketball (1,2,3); Class Football (1,2,3), Captain, (2,3); Varsity Squad (3); Y. M. C. A.; Beta Omega Sigma; Tombs; Class Representative on Athletic Council (3); Engineering Club; Red Friars.

The massive brain and eagle eye of this worthy son of Winston-Salem have made the most intricate and complex problems of mathematics, physics, and mechanics look simple, but he never has satisfactorily explained how he manages to consume such a ponderous amount of food without the slightest effect upon his lack of corpulency.

"That with his wisdom and his chivalrye
He conquered al the regne of Femenye."

DALLAS HUNTER CRUMPTON
ROXBORO, N. C.

Elon College (1,2); Columbian Literary Society; Folklore Society; Y. M. C. A. Executive Committee (4); Class Relay (3); Ministerial Band.

Crumpton is always looking for better things. after spending two years at Elon College, he came into our midst. His friendly disposition has won for him many friends. He regrets that he did not come to us sooner; so do we since we have become acquainted with him. We all know him by his smiling countenance.

LOTA LEIGH DRAUGHON, Z T A.

WHITAKERS, N. C.

Y. W. C. A. President (3,4), Cabinet (2); Student Council (2,3,4); Chemistry Club; Folklore Society; Athena Literary Society; Pan-Hellenic Council (2); Freshman Honors; Freshman and Sophomore Scholarships; Class Treasurer (3); President Student Volunteer Band (3); English Assistant (3); Delta Phi Rho Alpha.

Did you ever have a friend who saw only the good in you and other folks and who never failed to smile and be happy? And did you ever have a leader who had the wonderful ability of holding all of her followers to her by the tie that holds for aye—that of friendship and love? Well, that's Lota Leigh. She is worthy of the best of everything.

"None knew her but to love her,
None named her but to praise."

LEROY DULIN

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

Chronicle Staff (2); Mecklenburg County Club Treasurer (2), President (3); Y. M. C. A. Treasurer (3), President (4); Assistant Librarian (3,4); Columbian Literary Society Treasurer (3), President (4); Historical Society; Student Life Committee (4); President Men's Bible Class (4); Assistant Business Manager CHANTICLEER (4).

Leroy has been successful in obtaining some of the highest positions in college activities, one of which is the Presidency of the Y. M. C. A.; to this position he has done great honor, showing himself a very efficient and conscientious worker. Possibly his great success could be attributed largely to the earnest co-operation of the Y.W. C. A. Nevertheless, he is addicted to frequent visits to the "fraushack," and it looks very much like he has been successful by it.

LUCY JUDITH DUNNAGAN
DURHAM, N. C.

King Hiram High School; Y. W. C. A. Finance Committee (3), Chairman (4); Athena Literary Society Marshal (2), Vice-President (4); Hades Club.

Constancy, determination, a never-failing good will, a cheerful disposition, and a sympathetic heart—that's Lucy. She has well mastered the ignorance of a Freshman, the arrogance of a Sophomore, the prudishness of a Junior, and the conceit of a Senior.

"Here's a girl with a heart and smile
That makes the bubble of life worthwhile."

PETER HERMAN EDWARDS, B Π; Σ Υ
HOOKERTON, N. C.

Hesperian Literary Society; Assistant in English; Associate Editor Archive; Associate Editor CHANTICLEER.

"Pete" is one among many. He does not stand high above many of his fellow men in physique, but in mentality he stands far above the average. He has rendered valuable services in the publication of the CHANTICLEER. He has made for himself a good reputation as a short-story writer, and for a good reason he has become as famous in West Durham as in Hookerton. Trouble don't trouble "Pete." He is ever the same wherever you find him, with few but well directed words.

KELLY LEE ELMORE

Rock Hill, S. C.

Chemistry Club Secretary, President; Engineers' Club; Physics Club; Gaston County Club; Scrub Faculty; Chemistry Assistant; Chronicle Board, Chairman; R. O. T. C. Sergeant; Columbian Literary Society Marshal, Associate Tribunal, Vice-President; President; Archive Staff Alumni Editor; Y. M. C. A.

Kelly has spent the most of his time in the chemical laboratory since he has been here. For a good while he has been Assistant Professor in Chemistry, and in every way he ha made a splendid record. He is known as a man of hightest moral character and ideals. His most successful way of entertaining his friends is by singing, "quiet talks", and lectures on the astronomical influences of life.

LEONIDAS BUTLER FALLS

Kings Mountain, N. C.

Chemistry Club; Assistantin Chemistry; Y. M. C. A.

You woundn't know that Falls was in college if you did not belong to his class. "Still water runs deep," and so does Falls' mind. We expect him to make his mark in the world.

SIDNEY SHARP FARABOW, Σ Υ; Χ Τ

FUQUAY SPRINGS, N. C.

Carthage High School; Hesperian Literary Society Secretary (3); French Club; Assistant in English (3,4); Chronicle Board, Chronicle Staff (2), Associate Editor Chronicle (3); Editor Trinity Archive; Y. M. C. A. Chairman Program Committee (4); Class Football (3); Wake County Club; Historical Society (2); Folklore Society.

Here is one man who never grows morose or pessimistic. Sidney Sharp is a humorist of the highest type. His greatest pleasure during his leisure hours is cracking jokes and searching for new ones which he can spring at some social gathering or under the covers of the Archive. He is Editor-in-Chief of the Archive, and from the splendid success which he has had with this publication, we are led to believe that his literary ability measures up to his other qualifications.

SHELDON GARNER HARRINGTON, Β Η

JONESBORO, N. C.

Jonesboro High School; Y. M. C. A.; Historical Society; Folklore Society; Class Basketball (2); Class Baseball (3); Class Football (3); Hesperian Literary Society.

"Speed" is not so fast as his name would signify. He is an habitué of the "Dope Shop", and has a natural aversion to women. He has had three dates since he entered college, and we believe that Pete Edwards was responsible for these. Professor Holton sees in "Speed" an educator of no mean rank.

WHITELAW REID HARRIS

UNION MILLS, N. C.

Rutherford College; Weaver College; Ministerial Band; Columbian Literary Society, Chaplain, Executive Committee, Business Committee.

Harris comes to us from Rutherford College. He entered our class as a Junior and has made a most worthy addition. He is a Methodist minister, and we feel sure that he will make the Methodist Conference a loyal servant, and that many will be led to a higher life through his influence.

ROBERT BRONSON HARTSFIELD

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Chemistry Club (2,3); Finance Committee (3); Biology Club (2,3); Sandfiddlers' Club; New Hanover Club; Scrub Faculty; Assistant in Chemistry; Hesperian Literary Society; Y. M. C. A.

"If I had only fifteen minutes to spend in fun and enjoyment, I'd rather spend it talking to Hartsfield." This is what one member of the CHANTICLEER Staff says of Hartsfield, and we believe that it is one of the highest compliments to be paid to anyone. Need more be said?

ERNEST DAVID HARWARD
DURHAM, N. C.

Trinity Park School Club; Navy Club; R. O. T. C.; Engineers Club; Physics Club; Assistant in Physics; Columbian Literary Society.

We don't know what ever caused Harward to major in both electrical and civil engineering, unless he just wanted to show the rest of us up. If we had many students like Harward, we are afraid that the Faculty wouldn't have such sympathy for those of us of mediocre ability.

RUFUS MELVIN HAUSS
CONNELLY SPRINGS, N. C.

Rutherford College Club President (4); Columbia Literary Society Vice-President (4); Ministerial Band; Student Volunteer Band; Y. M. C. A.; Folklore Society; Class Basketball (4).

Hauss is a fine chap. His two diversions are playing tennis with some good-looking girl and ruminating in some field of philosophy. He agrees with the great Philosopher Hegel "that the absolute self is simply the absolutely strong spirit who bears the contradictions of life and wins the eternal victory." We feel that the world will be a little better because of his service.

HERBERT JAMES HERRING, Σ X Σ Υ

BURGAW, N. C.

Sandfiddlers' Club; Hesperian Literary Society Debater's Medal (2), Intersociety Debate (2), Trinity-Swarthmore Debate (2); Commencement Marshal (2), Secretary (3), Vice-President (4), Critic(4), President (4); Chief Commencement Marshal (3); Class President (3); Cheer Leader (4); Student Life Committee (4); President Greater Trinity Club (4); Y. M. C. A. Cabinet (4); Assistant Librarian (3,4); English Assistant (4); "9019"; Red Friars; Tau Kappa Alpha; Richmond University Debate (4); Debater's "T".

Everybody knows Herring, even the Freshmen after a couple of days on the park. He has figured conspicuously in the doings of the Class of '22. His chief delight is to deliver an extemporaneous speech, beautiful in its completeness. Sometimes we have almost believed that we could smell midnight oil in these extempore efforts.

JERRY LOUIS HESTER

ROXBORO, N. C.

Person County Club; Secretary Ministerial Band (3); Student Volunteer Band; Columbian Literary Society Business Committee (3); Folklore Society; Y. M. C. A.

Here is a man who for four years has moved among his classmates making friends and never a single enemy. He has been where he should be at the right time and always with a smile and cheerful greeting. Always has he been willing to contribute his services for Trinity or for his class. Hester is going to make a strong man for the Carolina Conference. He is already known as a leader in the Ministerial Band. He has done good work for the Columbian Literary Society.

MALCOLM DAVIS HIX
DURHAM, N. C.

West Durham High School; Class Basketball (2,3,4); Hades Club; Sandfiddlers' Club.

"He is the cutest boy I know," we once heard a young woman say of Hix. While an editor of the CHANTICLEER could not be expected to use the word "cute," we did second the motion he was an all-around good fellow. He was the strong man of the Senior Basketball team that put up such a fight in the championship series. Wonder why he never went out for Varsity?

CALVIN BRYAN HOUCK
TODD, N. C.

Hesperian Literary Society Chaplain (4), Executive Committee (4); Y. M. C. A. Vice-President (4), Membership Committee (3), Reception Committee (4); Folklore Society; Mountain Boomers' Club; Ex-Service Men's Club; Associate Member Ministerial Band; Class Vice-President (4); Associate Editor CHANTICLEER (4).

This man from the mountains brought something of the quiet strength of his native hills with him to Trinity. Quiet, reserved but forceful, he has had the approval of his classmates. Class activities, publications, and the Y. M. C. A. have felt his influence. Houck will next year swell the ranks of Trinity men and women who have entered the teaching profession. We confidently expect that he will have a partner in his work. Of course, this is only an expectation. But why so many trips in a certain direction.

THELMA HOWELL, Z T A
NEW BERN, N. C.

Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (3); Student Council (3,4); Pan-Hellenic Council (2) President (3); Athena Literary Society President (3); Brooks Literary Society Critic (4); President Athletic Association (3,4); Glee Club (2,3,4) Treasurer Dramatic Club (3,4); Delta Phi Rho Alpha; Chemistry Club.

Some people are born leaders, others achieve leadership, and still others have it thrust upon them. Thelma is truly a born leader. From the first day of her Freshman year to the last of her Senior year she has shown a mighty working influence among her fellow students, and yet with all her aspirations toward a manly profession—she's a woman.

ELBERT ALLRED IVEY
HICKORY, N. C.

Hickory High School; Trinity Park School; Mountain Boomers' Club; Trinity Park School Club; Y. M. C. A.; Hesperian Literary Society; College Band (1,2,3,4); Trinity Musical Club (3,4); Class Basketball (4).

Elbert comes from Hickory, but he can hardly be called a "nut". His companions on the Band, and fellow Glee Clubbers, have reported that he is a great hand with the ladies. It is a known fact that he carries on "scan'lous" with Clara—clarinet.

JEFFERSON DEEMS JOHNSON, JR., Σ X
GARLAND, N. C.

Y. M. C. A., Hesperian Literary Society; Trinity Park School Club; Sandfiddlers' Club; Assistant Manager Chronicle (2); Class Baseball (1), Captain (2); Varsity Baseball (2,3), Captain (4); Beta Omega Sigma; Tombs; Red Friars; "T" Club; Representative Pan-Hellenic Council (4).

We like the tenacity with which "J. D." hangs to anything until he accomplishes that thing. He is the captain of our baseball squad, and a good captain he is. Straight to the mark his thought and speech fly. His favorite sport is "knocking 'Data' cold" on Economics.

MARY LUCY JONES
SOUTH MILLS, N. C.

South Mills High School; Athena Literary Society.

Mary has acquired so much knowledge that her wisdom teeth have become affected. Mary acquired such fame on her psychology class that Dr. Cranford often used her as a fitting example of his theories. "Now, for instance, Miss Jones, if I should receive an invitation to your wedding next summer—". The invitation has not arrived as yet, but we have no fear that Mary will be an old maid.

THOMAS CARLTON KIRKMAN, Φ Β Κ; Σ Υ
HIGH POINT, N. C.

High Point High School; Freshman and Sophomore Honors; Sophomore and Junior Scholarships; Chronicle Staff (2), Associate Editor (3); Varsity Football Squad (3); Class Football (2,3); Class Track (1); Varsity Track (1); Secretary Y. M. C. A. (3); Student Life Committee (3); Assistant in Physics (3,4); Assistant in English (3,4); Delegate Des Moines Convention (2); Physics Club Secretary (3); President (4); Hesperian Literary Society; Class President (4); 9019.

"Kirk" can discourse lucidly on Einstein's theory of relativity and at the same time correct a theme. Between the English office and the Physics Lab, he prefers the latter by a shade's difference. Last summer, Kirkman worked for the Edison Company, and lived "just off Broadway." No doubt he will hurry back to the canyon of sky scrapers as a rival to Edison before long.

STANTON LLOYD LANE, Χ Τ
OKISKO, N. C.

Elizabeth City High School; Hesperian Literary Society; Varsity Track (1,2) Assistant Manager Football (2,3); Chronicle Staff (2), Assistant Business Manager (3); Biological Club; Sandfiddlers' Club; Assistant Business Manager CHANTICLEER(3)—Business Manager(4), Y.M.C.A.

A man who can successfully manage the business department of the CHANTICLEER, ought to find Wall Street child's play. Probably he was inspired by that big-bellied pipe of his, or maybe it was a girl. In either case the effect was the same. Lane is also good with the camera. During the years he has been here he has reproduced much of the college life in pictures. Every memory book contains snap shots with the inscription "Photo by Lane."

RICHARD COX LEACH, Π Κ Φ

WASHINGTON, N. C.

McKinley Manual Training School, Washington, D. C.; Class Vice-President (2); Class Football (2); Gym Team (2); Class Track (2); Sand-fiddlers' Club; Varsity Football (3); Left Tackle All-State Team (3); Captain Varsity Football (4) Beta Omega Sigma; Engineering Club; Assistant in Drawing; Theta Nu Epsilon; Tombs; Red Friars.

Behold here the captain of Trinity's hero eleven that walloped Wake-Forest 17 to 0. He certainly did general the team on that memorable occasion. He has a mania for doing things that the other fellow fails on. This is shown by his preference for higher mathematics and the intracacies of engineering. And as to girls, everybody knows that story.

THOMAS R. LITAKER

CONCORD, N. C.

Winecoff High School; Hesperian Literary Society; Class Basketball (3,4); Class Track (3); Varsity Track (3).

Beneath a rugged exterior, Litaker conceals as warm a heart as ever beat. For four years he has been going along with the Class of '22 in his own quiet way. You have missed something if you have not heard "T" get going with his line. His strong right arm hurled the discus with good effect for Trinity last year.

FRANK ENGLISH LOFTIN, Jr.
Mount Olive, N. C.

It is impossible to miss "Red," even in the dark. When he was not arguing, he was out on some mysterious trip with chosen friends. Many have wondered where these nightly journeys ended. The science building was the favorite haunt of Loftin during class hours. Chemistry, Physics, and Biology were among his favorites. His knowledge of Physics in his junior year often surprised Dr. Edwards.

HELEN MAY LYON, A Δ Π
Durham, N. C.

Durham High School Club Treasurer (2); Y.W.C.A.

Helen has been called "Baby-Face." But don't let appearances deceive you. She may look young, and she is quite young, but she is no baby. Her principal form of athletics is driving a car. We suspect that she is a mighty good sport, and we wish that she had played with us a little more. But what more can you expect of one in love?

LUCILLE LEE MASSEY

DURHAM, N. C.

Durham High School Club; Current Events Club (4); Glee Club (2); Athena Literary Society; Y. W. C. A.

Quiet and dignified, did you say? Maybe, sometimes, but she is bubbling over with fun, and although she may try hard to conceal it, it usually succeeds in manifesting itself on Education 1. Lucille, in addition to being an authority on education, is truly a good all-around girl; one whom anyone should be glad to call a true friend.

"It's the songs ye sing and the smiles ye wear
That's a-makin' the sunshine everywhere."

SAMUEL ARTHUR MAXWELL

PINK HILL, N. C.

Folklore Society; Historical Society; Duplin Count Club Secretary (2), Vice-President (3), President (4); Sandfiddlers' Club; Columbian Literary Society Marshal (1,2,3), Chaplain (2); Delegate North Carolina Conference; President N. C. Volunteer Union (4); Pastor Lakewood Methodist Church; Physics Club; President Ministerial Band (4); Volunteer Band; Reporter Student Volunteer Conference (3).

Young ladies and gentlemen, let us present the Billy Sunday of the Class of '22. Maxwell has conducted revivals over the entire South. His experience as a minister has given him an independence far beyond his years. Professors did not mean much in his sweet young life. Next year he is going to continue his studies at a Northern University.

JACOB HOLT McCRACKEN, Jr., Σ T
WASHINGTON, N. C.

Biology Club Secretary-Treasurer (4); Associate Editor CHANTICLEER (4); Assistant in Chemistry (4); Chemistry Club Executive-Committee (3,4); Class Treasurer (4); Physics Club (3,4); Hesperian Literary Society; Scrub Faculty; Y. M. C. A.

"Mac" is a "bull" in science, a prince in good-fellowship, and above everything a gentleman. We would call him a cultured gentleman. He is a valuable member of the CHANTICLEER Staff, and has ably served our class as treasurer.

JACOB BRUCE McLAWHORN
HANRAHAN, N. C.

Grifton High School; Ex-Service Men's Club; Pitt County Club; French Club; Hesperian Literary Society.

Some have wondered why "Mac" spent so much time at Southgate. Those who know him, however, realize that he has that radiant disposition which the ladies cannot resist. He is also a liberal patron of the library, contributing unstintingly to its collections. Modesty has prevented "Mac" from disclosing his future plans, but it is rumored that he aspires to be the Grifton Police Force.

ALMON ERVIN MERCER

DURHAM, N. C.

Hesperian Literary Society; French Club; Hades Club.

Mercer is the only man of '22 who had the distinction of being at Trinity along with his father; yet this happened to him last year while his father was taking M. A. Credits. Mercer is one of these quiet chaps. You never can tell what they are going to do. They do not set the woods on fire, but they are always on time. The say-little-but-think-much type of student, Mercer will long be remembered by his classmates.

LUCILE MERRITT, Z T A

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Wilmington High School; Sophomore Honors; Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior Scholarships; Pan-Hellenic Council (3); Sandfiddlers' Club Secretary (1); New Hanover County Club Secretary (2); Athena Literary Society; Current Events Club; French Club; Glee Club; Eko-L President (4).

And yet there's one who thinks her prettier in a Ford coupé, and another who prefers to see her ride in a Hudson Supersix. We cannot but wonder why Lucile has attained such marked success in college activities and scholarship when she has been torn between two such opposing affections. Shall we not class her with the seven wonders, to have had the courage and determination to enter college at the eleventh hour of her Senior year?

"She's pretty to walk with, witty to talk with, and pleasant to think upon."

PELEG DAMERON MIDGETT, Jr.
Wanchese, N. C.

Class Football (2); Varsity Football (3,4); Hesperian Literary Society; "T" Club; Folklore Society; Corporal R. O. T. C.; Wrestling Team (4); Tombs; Y. M. C. A.

"P. D." has served Trinity well. He was the first center on our team when we re-entered intercollegiate football in 1920. This year he has practiced for the entire season, coming out against a center whom the newspapers concede to be best in the State. He is what we call a hero.

OTIS PIERCE MOSS
Albemarle, N. C.

Moss floats in and out of classes as quietly as a mouse and there is something about a man of quiet and inoffensive manners that commands respect. If he applies himself in after life as he has in college, he will be a man of whom we will be proud.

SAMUEL SHERMAN MURRAY
DURHAM, N. C.

Durham High School; Durham High School Scholarship; Hesperian Literary Society; Freshman Honors; Chemistry Club; Assistant in English (3) 9019.

Murray is from Durham, and as is usually the case, spends most of his time in the city. He is quiet, reserved, and studious, and has an enviable record in scholarship.

WALTER CHEEK NEWTON
DURHAM, N. C.

Hurham High School; Class Bsaketball (3,4); Y. M. C. A.; Theta Nu Epsilon.

Walter is one of the best looking men in our class. If he dosen't look so in this picture, then justice is not done him. He is what we term a handsome man. We believe that Walter would make a good dancer, but we can't conceive of a Trinity man engaging in such pastime.

PENELOPE ANNIE NICHOLS

DURHAM, N. C.

Mineral Springs High School; Athena Literary Society (1,2,3); Athena Literary Society (4); Parthenon Club Treasurer (3), Secretary (4); Y. W. C. A. World Fellowship Committee (2); Folklore Society; Athletic Association.

You might think that "Penny Nichols" isn't worth much—only six cents. But as the poet says, "what's in a name?" For "Penny" is worth a great deal. She has bobbed hair, many beaus, and French 5, are they not rich possessions?

DEWEY HARRISON NOLAND

WAYNESVILLE, N. C.

Cullowhee Normal and Industrial School; Weaver College Club; A. E. F. Club; Physics Club; Hesperian Literary Society, Chairman Executive Committee (4).

Here is your champion mountain boomer. He is as much at ease in the solving of trigonometry and calculus problems as in the mountain fastness of his mountain home. He doesn't boast of his war record; he's not that kind, but he was there all right. Hesperia and Trinity lose a good man in Noland.

LILLIAN SUSIENNE PARHAM

DURHAM, N. C.

East Durham High School, East Durham High School Club; Y. W. C. A.; Athletic Association; U. N. C.

We have never seen Susienne when she seemed other than carefree and happy. She has a store of fun and amusing questions that would make one laugh in the most serious class. She has a special affinity for Shakespeare, the inventor of the "love-juice"—"I wish I had some love juice to put in his eyes." Susienne, we wish you much success in the distribution and application of your love juice. And may you always be as happy and cheerful as you have been during your four years at Trinity.

"Oh, quiet lass, there are but few who know the treasure hid in thee!"

JESSIE LILLIAN PENNY, Φ B K

CARY, N. C.

Freshman and Sophomore Honors; Y. W. C. A Secretary (2), Undergraduate Representative (3), Chairman World Fellowship (3); Athena Literary Society Marshal (2), Chairman Program Committee (4); Current Events Club (2,3), President (4); Glee Club; Athletic Association; Director of Tennis Club (4); Student Council Proctor (2,3), Vice-President (4); Delegate Y. W. C. A. Convention (2); Historical Society; Eko-L.

Gold is very precious; silver very valuable; but pennies which are generally brass, in this case have the qualities of both gold and silver. Who could be a more efficient President of the Current Events Club, a more worthy member of Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, a more capable Vice-President of Student Government or a more deserving member of Phi Beta Kappa than Jessie has proved herself to be?

MARY ELIZABETH PHILLIPS
West Durham, N. C.

West Durham High School; President West Durham High School Club (3); Brooks Literary Society; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Chairman Town Girls Committee (3,4); Glee Club; Athletic Association.

Elizabeth is one of the girls who had room in her heart for both phases of Trinity co-ed life—town and dormitory. She was always ready to help in any way to weld the two together, acting ever with such tact as to make all love and admire her. We wish for her in everything, such success as she has had in her college career.

HENRY FLOYD PICKETT
Durham, N. C.

Trinity Park School Club; Chemistry Club; Physics Club; Class Football (2); Class Track (1,2,3); Class Relay Race (2).

Pickett is another son of Durham. He has tried out for most every form of athletics at Trinity. While he has not made a brilliant record in all of them, he has acquitted himself quite well as a pole-vaulter.

IRENE ROBERTA PRICE, A Δ Π; Θ B K
WILMINGTON, N. C.

Brooks Literary Society; Eko-L; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Sandfiddlers' Club; Co-Ed Editor CHANTICLEER; Delta Phi Rho Alpha.

Irene is one of those delightfully unexplainable combinations of capability, fun, and studiousness. If you want a committee well managed, you call on Irene. If you want a good tennis partner, or a pal to go "down street," Irene and—and effervescing enthusiasm are always ready; and if you ask her about her Phi Beta Kappa key, she will most likely look askance at you and then refer you to the waste-basket.

JUNIUS WALTER PRINCE, JR., B Π
FUQUAY SPRINGS, N. C.

Cary High School; Freshman Honors; Columbia Literary Society; Biological Club; Commencement Marshal (2); Chemistry Club; Assistant in Chemistry; Class Tennis (3); Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Class Track (3); Class Football (2, 3); Folklore Society.

"Junius Walter" is prince of the science hall and one of the two prime reasons why Fuquay Springs. His survivor of the S. A. T. C. battle in the recent war, proved that he is a man of '22 calibre. As a philanthropist his most famous accomplishment was providing the tickets and the inveiglement for Speed Harrington's romance.

LILLIAN RAMSAUER, Z T A
DUNN, N. C.

Columbia College (1, 2); Vice-President Y. W. C. A. (4); President Athena Literary Society (4); Athletic Association; Eko-L; Glee Club (3); Leader Bible Study Class (4); Pan-Hellenic Council (4).

We wonder who it was that first called Lillian the "Sunshine Girl?" I suppose 'twas the angels who put the gold in her hair, the song on her lips, and the love in her heart. There never was a friend more loyal, constant, true, and deserving of one's esteem than Lillian. May she get as much happiness out of life as she has put into it for others, and may her bungalow down on the farm be all that she wishes.

"A sunshine heart, a soul of song,
Love for hate, and right for wrong."

CHARLES BUCK ROBERTS
DURHAM, N. C.

What baseball fan in the State has not heard of "Buck" Roberts? He made an enviable record in several of the Southern leagues. He has moved in and out of us, and those of us who know him think he is as good a fellow as he is a baseball player.

ETHYL ALENE ROBINSON
FOREST CITY, N. C.

Forest City High School; Meredith College (1,2); Athena Literary Society (3); Brooks Literary Society (4); Y. W. C. A. Social Service Committee (4); Folklore Society; Parthenon Club; Volunteer Band; Student Council (4); Athletic Association; Mountain Boomers' Club.

Ethel went to Meredith for two years, but there was one thing wrong with that estimable institution—Penny wasn't there. And over those mysterious little air waves that convey such messages, Penny's mind sent out the call to Ethel to come to Trinity and be her chum. Ethel has obeyed both injunctions and for the past two years the two have been inseparable.

JOHN EDWIN ROSE, Σ X
FRANKLINTON, N. C.

Franklinton High School; Varsity Football (4); Class Football (2, 3); Assistant Manager Tennis (2, 3), Manager Tennis; Hades Club; Historical Society; Class Baseball (3); "T" Club; Y. M. C. A.

"Bre'er Fats" is as good-natured as he is fat. As one of "Jim's" protégés on the football squad, he has done well. In addition to being a member of the football squad, he is a student manager of tennis and is doubly entitled to wear the "T".

LOUIS LANGFORD ROSE, Σ X

FRANKLINTON, N. C.

Franklinton High School; Hesperian Literary Society; Class Tennis (1, 2, 3); Class Football (2, 3); Assistant Manager Track (1, 2), Manager Track (3, 4); Varsity Football Squad (3, 4); Hades Club; "T" Club; Tombs; Commencement Marshal (2); Y. M. C. A.

Allow us to present L. L. Rose, D. D. The D. D. doesn't stand for what you think it does, but rather for his nickname "Ding Dong" which came to him with the managership of track. He is a great promoter; witness his establishment of the Trinity Chapter of the Royal Exalted Order of Flaes.

BYRD ISAAC SATTERFIELD

TIMBERLAKE, N. C.

Roxboro High School; Columbia Literary Society Corresponding Secretary (1), Executive Committee (2), Chairman Executive Committee (3, 4), Business Committee (3), Recording Secretary (3), President (4); Freshman Debater's Medal Inter-Society Debate (4), Alternate State Oratorical Contest (3), Debate Council (3, 4); Commencement Marshal (2), Manager (3), Class Track (2, 3); Class Baseball (2, 3) Varsity Squad (3); Assistant Manager Chronicle (2, 3), Business Manager (4); Vice-President Historical Society (4); Vice-President Person County Club (2, 3); President (4); Y. M. C. A. Reception Committee; Tau Kappa Alpha; Trinity-Swathmore and Trinity-Richmond Debates (4).

"Bird-Eye" made his entrance in Columbia by "copping" the Freshman Debater's medal. Ever since, the Columbian Hall has been his Saturday night playground. Ahd how "Bird-Eye" ever rose from oblivion to pilot the business end of Trinity's famous newspaper, the Chronicle, remains a mystery to all but his close friends, who know that "Bird" wants, works, and wins."

BENEJA SCOTT, JR.
LUCAMA, N. C.

A. E. F.; Hesperian Literary Society; Biological Club; Emory University; Y. M. C. A. Physics Club; Trinity Park School.

Scott tried the scholarly life at Emory, Carolina and then after a year's service with the A. E. F. in France, decided that Trinity was the place at which to complete his course. He has made good with twice as much as the average man, because his power of application has seldom been equaled.

JOHN FRANK SCOTT
CONCORD, N. C.

Hesperian Literary Society; Class Basketball (2), Captain (3, 4); Class Track (2, 3); Varsity Track (3), Captain (4); "T" Club; Y. M. C. A.

Scott is one of those "dyed-in-the-wool" members of '22; his motto is "I want my class to be right; but my class, right or wrong." On the basketball floor, "Scoot" is the defender of his class' rights, and when there is a track meet to be held, "Scoot" can "shake a wicked foot." Rumor goes that he is the only member of '22 who passed his physical exercise according to regulations; but this is to be expected because Cap Card says he takes more exercise than any other ten men in college. And Frank vows he wouldn't major in English if "Bull" passed him in advance. We wonder why.

MERRIWELL TIECHE SHELTON

CHATHAM, VIRGINIA

Columbian Literary Society; Virginia Club; Physics Club; Chemistry Club; Biology Club; Y. M. C. A.; Assistant Instructor in Physics (3, 4).

Shelton is a quiet sort of fellow; he sleeps in his room and works in the Science Hall. It is doubtful whether he ever eats—he's too big. And yet doesn't "bone" He is one of those constant progressive pursuers of knowledge known as "science bulls." Prof. Edwards swears by him, and the Physics I students "cuss" him. By the way, "Shelt" is secretly a ladies' man; he has several pictures of fair damsels lying on his study tables; and he specializes in breaking up immediately after sending a five-pound box of candy.

JOHN DAVID SINK

LEXINGTON, N. C.

Historical Society; Hesperian Literary Society; Theta Nu Epsilon.

"Bre'r Dave" is a staunch supporter of his class, a jolly good fellow, and a "good egg" in general. He has not astonished the academic or athletic world, but when it comes to being good-natured and falling in line for a good time, with the cares and daily grind of college life forgotten, why, right there is where David shines. Yet, it is said that he is a woman hater; there is some inconsistency somewhere. Jarvis and downtown are his only "handouts."

GERTIE REID SMITH

COOLEEMEE, N. C.

Davenport College; Glee Club; Historical Society; Current Events Club; Folklore Society; Brooks Literary Society, Y. W. C. A.

Gertie has been a Senior ever since she has been at Trinity; in other words, it took her three years to find out the right college to go to. It did not take us near that long to find her out, and we are mighty proud of her. We hope that she feels as much that we are her class, as we feel that she belongs to us.

FRANK GASTON STOUGH

CONCORD, N. C.

Rutherford College (1, 2); Rutherford College Club Vice-President (4); Columbian Literary Society Executive Committee (3); Chaplain (4); Ministerial Band Secretary and Treasurer (3), Vice-President (4); Volunteer Band Delegate to State Convention, Vice-President (4); Y. M. C. A. Cabinet; Folklore Society, Trinity Brotherhood.

Stough came to us from Rutherford College. Quiet and diligent, Stough walks daily along the paths of religious education, by streams of Bible, and through meadows of philosophy. A missionary is his high and sacred goal in life, and if he continues always as we have known him, success must be his. What more can be said of a man than that,

"He did what he could."

ZEBULON TEETER

MT. PLEASANT, N. C.

Georgvill School; Mount Pleasant Collegiate Institute; Weaver College; Instructor Stonewall Jackson Manual Training and Industrial School; Weaver College Club; Cabarrus County Club; Ministerial Band; Columbian Literary Society.

Behold the class philosopher! "Zeb" had rather talk philosophy than eat or sleep. Socrates is his idol and Plato his companion. "Zeb" has not published a textbook yet, but he may publish one at any time explaining the if and why of the past, present, and future, why "Bull" pulls his collar and keeps the other hand occupied also, why "Rabbit" walks the floor continually, why "Daddy" says, "If you'll excuse me for saying so," and why William Preston scratches his head and talks to the front seats. It is said that "Zeb" is the only man having read the whole of Philosophy III in ten years.

JOHN BASCOM TABOR

HENRIETTA, N. C.

Rutherford College; Hades Club; Columbian Literary Society Associate Tribune; Class Tennis (3); Class Basketball (3, 4); Ministerial Band; Class Baseball (3); Y. M. C. A.

John is a quiet sort of chap, he attends to his own business and lets other folks attend to theirs. But when it comes to backing '22, he is right there with the goods. Tennis is John's pastime in work; yes, work, for John plays as he studies. It is a task to be done, and John will do it right, as evidenced by his berth on the Varsity Tennis Squad.

RICHARD ELTON THIGPEN, Δ Σ Φ

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Wilmington High School; Hesperian Literary Society; Freshman Debater's Medal Treasurer (2), Chairman Executive Committee (3); Class Track (1); Varsity Track (1, 2); New Hanover County Club Vice-President (2); Stenographers' Club; Sandfiddlers' Club; Class President (2); Y. M. C. A.; Assistant Editor CHANTICLEER (3); Pan-Hellenic Council Secretary (3); Theta Nu Epsilon; 9019.

Dick was one of the first eagles to find his wings and to soar into the leadership of our class, as shown by his election as president in our Sophomore year. To know Dick well is to have a true friend in need. He joined the "sachet brigade" during his Sophomore year, and it is probable that when he attains his dreams in law, he may live in a house for two.

WILLIAM ALLEN TYREE

DURHAM, N. C.

"Head" Tyree he is called, and a right large head he has; but that contains brains which Tyree knows how to use, as evidenced by the many surveys he has made of the Trinity Campus. His optimism, with his big laugh and humorous disposition ready to overflow at all times, has won him many friends.

THOMAS REUBEN WAGGONER, Π Κ Φ; Σ Υ
WALKERTON, N. C.

Commencement Marshal (2); Historical Society (1, 2); Folklore Society Secretary (3); Hesperian Literary Society Marshal (1, 2) Executive Committee (3), Secretary (3); Chronicle Board (3,4,) President (4), Critic (4); Student Life Committee (3); Assistant Business Manager CHANTICLEER (3); Southgate Short Story Prize (2); Assistant Cheer Leader (3); Assistant Manager Football (2), First Assistant (3), Manager (4); Assistant Librarian (3); Y. M. C. A. Finance Committee (4); Assistant in English (3, 4); Glee Club (4); Theta Nu Epsilon; Tombs; Greater Trinity Club, Recording Secretary; Editor CHANTICLEER.

"Reube" is Editor of the CHANTICLEER, and as such assumes responsibility for nothing. At one time he had as many friends as any one man on the park. Whether or not he retained them is not for us to say. Suffice it to say that he would have kept them.

ELIZABETH SCOTT WALKER, Φ Β Κ
DURHAM, N. C.

Durham High School Club; Freshman and Sophomore honors; Sophomore and Junior Scholarships; Parthenon Club Treasurer (2), President (3), Chairman Program (4); Current Events Club; Athletic Association; Y. W. C. A.; Athena Literary Society (1, 2, 3), Censor (2), Marshal (3); Brooks Literary Society Vice-President (4); Eko-L Secretary-Treasurer (4); Exchange Editor Archive.

Elizabeth has certainly got the right name, for she has the most characteristic walk of any walker we have ever seen walk, "But she gets there just the same." And so it is with everything else she starts to do—she gets there with flying colors. She is one of those girls who is always restless and eager to do something; therefore, we predict for her a life full of enthusiastic service for the good of other people.

ROBERT DWIGHT WARE

ALBEMARLE, N. C.

Editor-in-Chief Trinity Chronicle; Assistant in English (3, 4); Richmond University Debate (3, 4); President Columbian Literary Society (4); Corresponding Secretary Greater Trinity Club (4); Chronicle Board (3, 4); Glee Club; Tau Kappa Alpha.

"Crip" came to us from Rutherford College in our Sophomore year; yet he has made his three years count; he has some excellent records and honors, among which is the Editorship of the Chronicle. He is as innocent as a baby, and "22 has in him a mighty wielder of the pen and a debater of ability.

ROBERT STRANGE WILLIAMS

DUKE, N. C.

Bob entered with the Class of '21, but he decided to drop out a year, and after a needed rest, end his arduous labors with '22. Bob is an all-around good fellow; it's impossible to make him mad, and he's always ready to enjoy fun. He has gladly adopted the characteristics of his present classmates—late sleeping, chapel-cutting, bull-feasting, and Dean cussing. For do we not possess all these virtues? Yes; Bob's a regular member of '22, and we're proud of him.

JAMES WESLEY YOUNG

GREENSBORO, N. C.

Bessemer High School; Bingham Military Academy; Class Baseball (2, 3); Class Tennis (3); Class Basketball (1); Guilford County Club Vice-President (3); Assistant Manager Archive (3); Y. M. C. A.

"Cy" is another one of our handsome men. He is given to taking the "trail of the lonesome pine" at frequent and regular intervals, but we can't blame him. It is unfortunate that Cy's picture couldn't go in the beauty section—not merely because he is good-looking.

Trinity

(By G. E. Powell)

Praise and honor and peace to thee,
O Trinity, O Trinity.
We laud thy name and sing thy fame,
O Trinity.
We love thy pleasant, peaceful ways;
We love thy happy, helpful days;
We love thy friends and every phase
Of thee;
O Trinity, O Trinity.

To thee we owe our dearest dreams,
O Trinity, O Trinity.
Our plans, our hopes, our wondrous schemes,
O Trinity, O Trinity.
'Twas thou that led us in the light,
And shaped our courses, set us right;
We'll glory give, and ever fight
For thee,
O Trinity, O Trinity.

Be ours to bear the banner on,
O Trinity, O Trinity.
Thy truths to teach and live upon,
O Trinity, O Trinity.
As through the world we come and go,
We'll spread thy teachings high and low.
And practice them as best we know
For thee,
O Trinity, O Trinity.

Our second season of intercollegiate football has been almost as phenomenal as our first. Last season we came off the gridiron undefeated. This year we have encountered stronger teams, but our eleven acquitted itself nobly. We were fortunate in having Head Coach James Baldwin and Assistant Coach Herman Steiner to train the squad of sixty-odd men who reported at the beginning of the season. Leach, our captain, has proved his worth as a dependable tackle and as a man who has the confidence of the football squad and of the entire student body.

The season opened with the Lynchburg College game. This game was a neck and neck affair from the beginning, but with steady, consistent work we came out one point the victor, the score being 14-13.

On October 8th the old and experienced William and Mary team invaded our field and took a twin touchdown victory from us. This was the first time that William and Mary had appeared on our schedule, and it was the first and only football game we have lost since the reinstatement of the sport, but "Bill" Fincher's team met with determined opposition and the game was far from being a lopsided affair. The final score was, William and Mary 12; Trinity 0.

T. R. Waggoner
Manager

The following Saturday found the Trinity team on its first foreign territory. The squad of twenty-three men, Coach Baldwin and Manager Waggoner, took the trip to Emory, Virginia, where they met and defeated the Emory and Henry eleven by the score of 7-0.

And then came our Jonah. The Elon College team along with all the co-eds that could be scared up, came to Durham Town and rooted and yelled and played us to a scoreless tie. We were humiliated beyond degree. It must have been over-confidence; if it were, we were not guilty of it again.

The Saturday after the Elon game, Coach Baldwin was out of town, and Steiner handled the team. We don't know what he told them, but it must have been a "mess", for when all the Guilford team had been assisted off the field, we read the score: Trinity 28-Guilford 0. It was then our biggest score! And Guilford had tied Elon. Needless to say, we were feeling good.

And then, November 11, the anniversary made famous by Dick Bundy, Reube Waggoner, Crip Ware, Gyp Loftin, and others! The faculty gave us a three-quarter holiday, and the students flocked on board the "Victory Special" to go to Raleigh to souse the Baptists. And such a game it was! It did our souls good. With both sides of Riddick Field lined with cheering students, alumni, and friends, Trinity met Wake-Forest for the first time in intercollegiate football. Caldwell kicked off, and Heckman got away with about a thirty-yard run. After that Wake-Forest never showed a great deal of mighty football. In the first quarter our team ran the ball up near the Baptists' goal, and Simpson drop-kicked the oval fair and square above the cross bar. Our bleachers went wild. From then on with Crute going through the line, English, Smith, and Garrett anywhere, up and down the field our team paraded. The line opened holes where they were needed, and Neal and Huckabee caught everything coming around their ends. In the last quarter Barrett substituted for English, and when the whistle blew, it was virtually a march up the field toward the Baptists' goal with Barrett carrying the ball. The final score was Trinity 17—Wake-Forest 0. Trinity had made her debut in the circle of the major football teams of North Carolina, and Simpson was adjudged the best center in the State. We celebrated the victory hilariously, but that wasn't all; our team had tasted blood!

On the following Thursday our team left for New York to play New York University on the 19th. New York had expected an easy victory, but something "messed them up." The Trinity team, much lighter in weight, much younger in experience, and tired after the long ride, played New York off its feet. We scored in the first quarter and were very near scoring twice again when the ball went over on downs. During the last half New York managed to cross our goal line with a series of end runs. We were robbed of the victory, but felt that the 7-7 tie was good enough for the team playing under such odds.

The squad then came back to North Carolina to train for a few days, as the guest of the alumni of Monroe, before going to Spartanburg to grapple with Wofford. The people of Monroe took the team under their care as though all the boys were native sons. After a short ride down to Spartanburg on the 23rd, the team met Wofford on Thanksgiving Day. Much need not be said about this game. It almost developed into a track meet. Everybody that was eligible got away with a touchdown. The final score was Trinity 68—Wofford 0.

The season was undoubtedly a success, and the praise goes to Mr. Barnard, the two coaches, the team, and the unselfish support of the student body.

The 1921 baseball season for Trinity was a season of delights and disappointments. At times the team played brilliantly and displayed a mastery of the game that would have won the State championship had it been consistently carried out. Again a jinx seemed to have it in for the Trinity team in some games, and some weird exhibitions of baseball resulted. When the season is considered in its totality, however, a creditable record is shown. Twenty games were played, of which ten were won, nine were lost, and one resulted in a scoreless tie which was stopped by darkness in the thirteenth inning. Of the games lost, some of them were by the closest of margins.

A feature of the season was the trip North. This trip was planned by the athletic management as a successor to the trip which had been taken through Virginia every year. It marks the beginning of broader athletic activities for Trinity. Principal institutions in Maryland, Pennsylvania, Delaware and New York were played in a manner which did credit to Trinity. On this trip Swarthmore College, claiming the championship of Pennsylvania, was defeated by a score of four to three in one of the closest games of the season.

The high light of the Northern trip was the game with New York University in New York City. Earlier in the season, Trinity had taken one and New York one in a series played at Trinity. Thus added interests centered on the contest in the metropolis. Trinity won by a two to one score principally due to the work of Pitcher Carroll. In this game he allowed only three hits and fanned three New Yorkers, while one of their teammates rested on third base. Carroll was the Trinity hero that finally lammed out a long hit and brought in the winning run.

T. A. Banks
Manager

Another game which will be long talked about at Trinity was the second with Wake-Forest. In the first

Trinity had lost in a three to four score. But the team took sweet revenge in the second game, which was played at Wake-Forest. Here too it was Carroll who got in the telling work, backed up by a smooth working machine, which resulted in a Trinity victory three to nothing. Here Carroll blanked the Baptists and allowed only one measley hit. Carson worked a couple of wonderful double plays, while the Trinity fielders worked in big league style. In this game, Hathaway and McArthur made a couple of phenomenal catches that will be long talked about.

The end of the season saw five as fine baseball players as ever donned a uniform complete their college careers and incidentally their baseball careers at Trinity. They were Towe, Carroll, Carson, Hathaway, and Cole. Cole had in previous years been known as one of the best fielders in the section, but during the season of 1921 he suddenly blazed into fame as a pitcher. The hot ones did not come too hot for Towe at short, and Hathaway was sure to get everything that came his way in the field. Carson and Carroll as a battery were almost invincible when both were in form.

BASKET BALL

Basketball Resumé

O. L. Richardson . . . . Captain
W. S. Borland . . . . Manager
James Baldwin . . . . . Coach

As the old man said in testifying of his religious experiences, this old world is full of ups and downs, and so has the basketball season been at Trinity this year. Bright prospects, and unfortunate handicaps, brilliant victories, and depressing reverses have characterized the entire season.

At the outset last fall, Coach Baldwin found in Captain Richardson, Simpson, Spikes, Crute, and Pennington, excellent material for development into a winning aggregation. In addition to these letter-men, Tom Neal, who scrubbed on the 1920 State championship team, came out and soon won for himself a regular berth at standing guard; Brooks, Ormond, Ritch, and Leeper made up the scrub team which is so necessary to a successful season.

The line-up at the opening of the season was as follows: Simpson, right forward; Spikes, left forward; Richardson; center; Crute, right guard; Neal, left guard. This aggregation worked well in the first three games and won the opener from the University of South Carolina, 41-25. They then journeyed down to Raleigh and after racing neck and neck with N. C. State in one of the most hotly contested court games of the season on the Auditorium floor, finally emerged victorious by the score of 23-19. In the next game, which was staged with Wake-Forest on the home floor, the confidence and systematic team-work of our quint won a most decisive victory over the Baptists. Due in some part to the great defensive work of Neal, they were able to score only three field goals, and Trinity won 31-10.

W. S Borland

The strong alumni team, composed of such stars as Hip Martin, Skin Ferrel, Barney Douglas, Brick Starling, and Nick Hathaway, administered the first defeat to the Varsity. Skin Ferrel was in better form than usual and shot no less than six baskets from the field. The youngsters played rings around the alumni in the first half, which ended in Trinity's favor, 22-12. The final score was 37-31 in favor of the alumni.

The next three games were played away from home and lost to Wake-Forest, Carolina, and Elon. The Baptists showed more fight and ability on their own floor and managed to squeeze through with a 24-22 victory. The Carolina game was hard fought, and although Trinity threatened to overcome the University lead early in the second half, the game ended 38-22 against us.

The Elon game was a heart-breaker. Simpson led the field in scoring with six field goals, and Trinity had one point to spare within a few seconds of the end of the game, but Brown, the Elon center, caged on from near midcourt and won the game.

Trinity then picked up two games on the home court, defeating the scrappy Wildcats of Davidson, 24-18; and conquering the Guilford Quakers by a good margin in spite of some pretty work by the brilliant Frazier. The score was 38-24 for Trinity.

Just at this juncture the blow fell. With the Southern trip immediately impending, Coach Baldwin was forced to reconstruct his team. Crute and Neal were forced to be out of the game for a while, the former to devote more time to his studies, and the latter on account of an infected hand. Pennington, Brooks, and Ritch were all used to good advantage in filling up the gaps, but it was mid-season and the team was without the necessary experience in team-play.

It is needless to dwell on the painful details of the Southern invasion. Our crippled team made a creditable showing and was not badly beaten by any team except that of the Atlanta Athletic Association. Georgia Tech defeated our quint by only one point; and Florida was forced to play anextra five minutes for the victory. A quotation from the sportsmanlike comment on the Trinity team published by Red and Black, the University of Georgia newspaper, gives an idea of the impression created by our losing quint:

"Pin this little note conspicuously in your hat:—The North Carolina boys can pass a ball, and they were observed to dribble at a fast rate on more than one occasion. Another feature of the Durham lads' play, struck intimate favor with the onlookers. They are the cleanest players who have appeared on the local court within our memory. Clean-cut lads, all of them.

"As set forth before, the Methodists showed a great passing and dribbling game. We secretly believe that they have more good old basketballs stored away in them than they could get to function Tuesday night."

A hard fought game with Durham Y. M. C. A., resulted in a 30-22 victory for the association team, but our quint put up an excellent battle. It was in this game that Pennington held the mighty Mangum scoreless. Neal was back in the game, too, with his hand well.

The second game with N. C. State College was another exciting and close fought game, but the State team broke a three-years' record and beat us in our own gymnasium. Leeper, the visiting center, was a big factor in the State victory with six difficult field goals to his credit.

Those who saw the triumph of the Trinity five over the Durham Y. M. C. A. team in the second game with that aggregation, saw Coach Baldwin's system and his team at their very best. Trinity completely outclassed the "Y" team in every department of the game and won by the score of 37-26. What made the victory so sweet was that Carolina, Elon, and all the other college teams that had played the "Y" had gone down in utter defeat before them.

The final game played with Carolina in the Angier Duke Gymnasium was a great exhibition of basketball. Both teams were off in shooting perhaps, but a faster, better played game is rarely seen. The Carolina boys with their newly won title had the edge on Baldwin's men, but the game was so close that they might well have been very uneasy about the outcome. At the end of the first half, Trinity led by one point. The score was practically tied all the time until the last few minutes when three Carolina goals gave them the victory by the score of 29-23.

With the hope of a new gynmasium with a larger court next year, Trinity supporters are looking forward to bigger things in basketball.

Track at Trinity, though a minor sport, is making such a rapid growth that it bids fair to take its place before many years beside the more popular and widely-known major sports. Besides maintaining and progressively supporting the usual track and field events, this year saw Trinity take the initiative in instituting and popularizing among North Carolina colleges that distinctive phase of track known as the cross-country run.

For years Trinity has attempted to interest other colleges in this phase of track activity and to schedule cross-country meets with various collegiate institutions of this State, but not until the present year have these attempts approached a successful culmination. This year Trinity has participated in cross-country meets with Elon and Carolina; and a Trinity team participated in the cross-country run between Southern Methodist Colleges, held at Emory University in the fall of 1921-22.

Another very progressive step made in track this year is the institution of indoor track and field sports between colleges, high schools, and military schools of the State. Carolina, the Durham Y. M. C. A., and Trinity have organized this year the North Carolina Indoor Athletic Championships, held this year in Durham. Trinity has taken a leading part in the organization of this indoor track meet, a very decidedly progressive step in the advance of State and especially of collegiate track ahtletics. The coördination and unification of high school and collegiate athletics in common indoor track meets possesses an obvious advantage, and the result is sure to add a noticeable impetus to the interest in track activities, to the development of better athletes, and to the placing of track among the major sports.

L. L. Rose
Manager

The credit of creating more interest in track at Trinity is largely due to Coach Steiner. He is a professional track man, the first coach of this sort that Trinity has ever had. He has enlarged the field of track activities and has created a new interest in track. If our track team does not win, we do not think it will be Steiner's fault.

With the opening of spring the team has been training in earnest. There are good prospects this year for a successful team. Captain Scott and Harrison are going better at the hurdles than they did last year. Pinnix, the old reliable, is back at the 440. Barnhardt, the speed demon who came so near winning the State 100-yards dash, is the same old dash man. Shuster is back in school after a year's absence. If Shankle ever learns how to get the full benefit of his stack-pole stilts, he will take the State record at the high and broad jumps—and he is improving daily. Barrett is putting the shot and hurling the javelin as "in the good old days of our ignorance!"

The prospects are most bright for a winning team with such promising material, managed by "Ding Dong", captained by "Scoot", and coached by the right handsome and dashing Herman S.

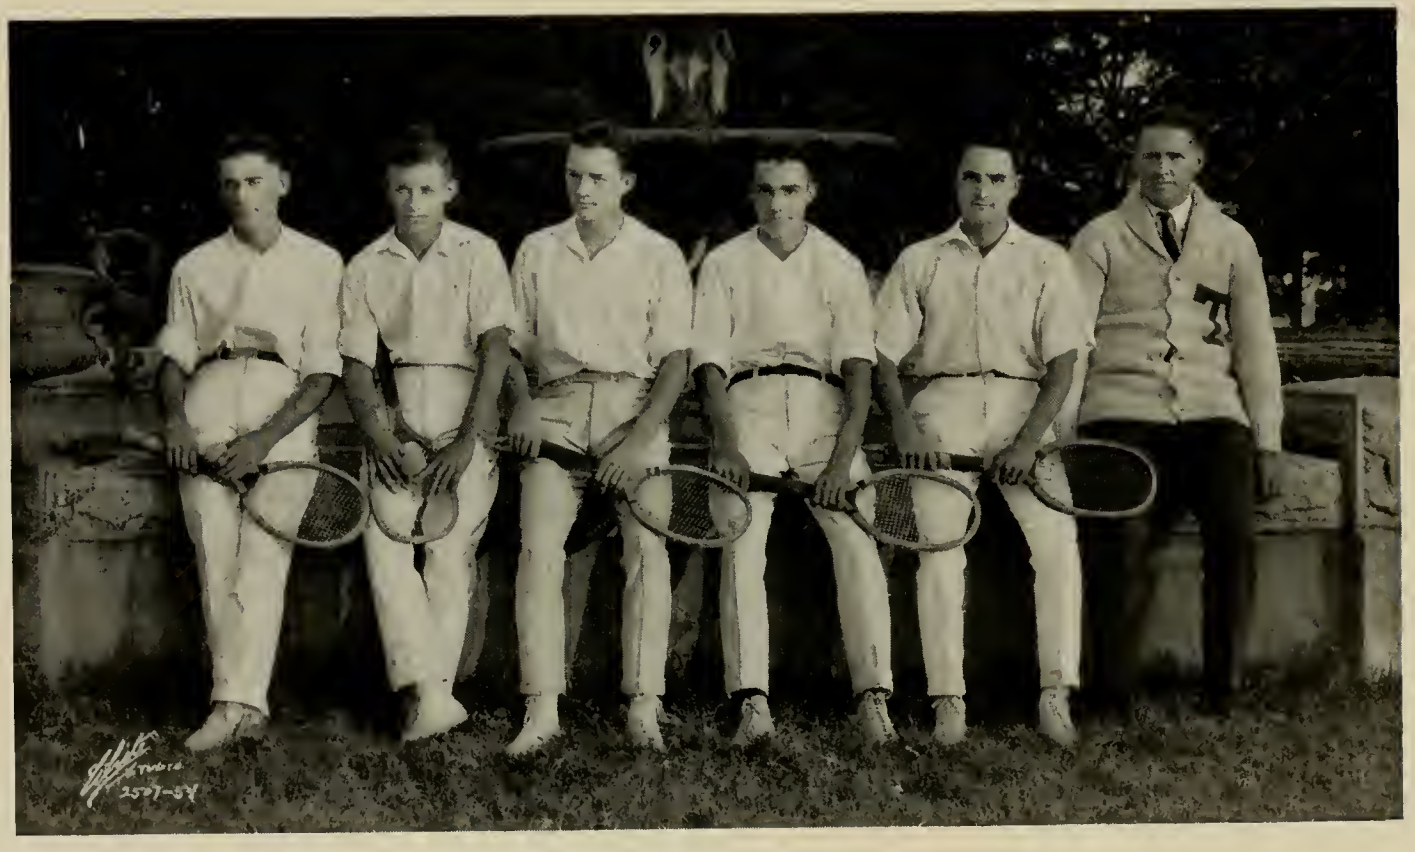
G. E. Powell
Captain

The spring of 1921 found Trinity with a strong tennis team. Captain Whitener assisted by Cornwell, Shinn, Hackney, and Bruton defeated all teams in the state except Davidson, which won the meet played at Trinity. After defeating Wake-Forest, Guilford, and Carolina, Trinity definitely proved her possibilities in the intercollegiate State tournament. Whitener and Cornwell, both of the Trinity team, won out in the semi-final singles; then it was necessary for these two to play a match for the single championship. The match was one well to be remembered by all tennis fans in the State, for it was considered the best since the time of Trinity's champions, White and Anderson. Whitener finally defeated. Cornwell, thus winning the cup for the State championship in singles. Shinn and Bruton defeated Carolina's first team in doubles, but lost to the second team. The season was a succession of victories and honors.

The season of 1921 opened and found Trinity with only one letter-man, Powell. Although unable to play the year before, he returned to the courts with renewed energy. It was around Powell as a nucleus that Dr. White was forced to build a team to carry on the honors won in the last year's tournament. Tabor, Lefler, Turrentine, and Summers were selected to work as teammates with Captain Powell. The team took its fall trip the latter part of October.

J. E. Rose
Manager

The first meet was held with Davidson. Trinity crossed rackets with a strong team of old letter-men, but the results were gratifying. Powell-Lefler, first doubles, defeated Davidson the best two out of three sets, but Turrentine-Tabor, second doubles, lost a hotly contested match. Powell, Tabor, Turrentine, and Summers lost in singles, but Lefler set a pace which the Davidson opponent was unable to keep and came through with a victory.



TENNIS TEAM

Trinity, determined to win an overwhelming victory, met Guilford on the opponent's territory. The team dazzled the eyes of the spectators. Powell-Tabor, Summers-Turrentine, won both doubles with ease. Lefler continued his good form by winning to love sets. The singles were won: Powell, 6-1, 6-3; Turrentine, 6-1, 6-2; Tabor, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4; and Summers, 6-1, 6-1.

The tournament with the Greensboro Country Club was the hardest which the Trinity quint played on the fall trip. Powell and Lefler after a long struggle lost in doubles to the pair that won the state championship last summer. Turrentine and Tabor were defeated in the second match of doubles. Powell, Tabor, and Summers lost in singles, but Lefler and Turrentine won out in their singles, thereby retrieving credit for themselves and for the Trinity five.

Carolina invaded Trinity territory and returned home with victory. Powell featured in this tournament by defeating Carolina's first man. His playing was the best displayed in the fall, and in every way showed that he was worthy of guiding the Trinity team. Marr filled the vacancy caused by the sickness of Tabor. Lefler, Turrentine, and Marr lost in singles, Powell-Lefler, and Turrentine-Summers lost in doubles. Carolina was the strongest team that Trinity played during the fall, for all her men had won distinction on the court in past years. Considering that the Trinity team was composed of four new men, the defeat was discreditable.

Working under the careful coaching of Dr. White, the team set to work early in March to develop a winning aggregation for the spring season. Several new men of ability appeared to contend for places, and it was a stronger team which entered the spring tournaments. Manager Rose secured games with teams in Virginia and North Carolina, and it is to be believed that the team will acquit itself ably.

WRESTLING

Wrestling

By P. H. Edwards

The Year 1921-1922 has seen the birth of a new sport at Trinity—the sport of wrestling; in fact, not until this year was wrestling an intercollegiate sport in North Carolina, for the wrestling match between Trinity and Davids on in the Spring of 1922 was the first intercollegiate wrestling match to be held in this State.

Taking into consideration the fact that this sport is still wrapped in the swaddling clothes of infancy, that Trinity had to build up a team from the very beginning, that interest in the sport has just arisen, and that Trinity met old Virginia teams who have maintained wrestling teams for years, Trinity's first year in this sport has been fairly successful, though three matches out of the four staged were lost.

Trinity won from Davidson in the first intercollegiate match to be held in North Carolina, 15 to 11. But we lost to three Virginia teams: To Washington and Lee by the score, 24-5; to the University of Virginia, 16 to 11; to V. M. I., 20 to 10. With Davidson it was more of an even match so far as preparation was concerned; both teams were new at the sport without any previous experience, and Trinity will always remember with pride that she won her first wrestling match.

But there was a good deal of difference in our status and that of our Virginia opponents The Virginia teams were old and experienced; they have special, full-time wrestling coaches; their teams were composed of old varsity men; for example, the V. M. I. team was composed of six seniors who had been participating in collegiate wrestling for four years. And Trinity's team, on the contrary, was badly handicapped and crippled. Our team was not organized and practice did not begin until December 1, after football season had ended. We faced odds at every match because we lacked a heavy-weight; in more than one match Midgett was forced to wrestle a light-heavy-weight, a man ten to twenty pounds heavier than himself. And our training was rendered practically naught by the fact that we trained to use trick holds, while intercollegiate rules barred trick and straining holds and instituted a scoring system of points, whereby the man who remained on top the longest was awarded the decision of three points.

In view of these almost insurmountable difficulties it is remarkable that Trinity has made the showing she has during her first season in wrestling. Our record is not to be ashamed of; the University of Virginia beat us only five points, and the University of Pennsylvania, who has one of the strongest wrestling teams in the country, beat the University of Virginia only three points; or comparatively the University of Pennsylvania is only eight points our superior. Of course these figures are not absolute, but they clearly indicate the strength of our team as compared with the foremost teams of the country.

The major credit for our record in wrestling is due to Bailey, a professional wrestler, who has, unassisted, coached and managed our team; doubtless Bailey is responsible for the team's existence; he has made it what it is. But Bailey has had the hard-working support of Hardaway, Taylor, J. B. Midgett, Merritt, Pickett, and Lilley, all of whom landed places on the team. Midgett's work is especially commendable.

The prospect for a future wrestling team is very bright. Bailey, the coach and back-stay of the team, Midgett, and three other members of the team are freshmen. With these men as a nucleus on which to build a future team, Trinity should develop a team competent to compete successfully with any in the South.

Trinity Musical Clubs

Walter W. Turrentine	President
B. B. Harrison	Business Manager
W. P. Twaddell	Director of Glee Club
K. B. Patterson	Director of Orchestra
H. L. Blomquist	Director of Band

The Trinity Musical Clubs, which embrace an orchestra, a glee club, a mandolin club, and a band, has developed into one of the foremost organizations at Trinity College. The development of this organization to its present state dates properly from the fall of 1920. At this time the musical activities of the college were organized with L. M. Draper, President; W. W. Turrentine, Business Manager; and Edgar Howerton, Director. Under this management one of the most inclusive tours ever taken by a Trinity glee club was made. The audience and the newspaper writers at each town where concerts were given were high in the praise of the performance. Points visited on this tour were: Randolph-Macon Institute, Oxford, Randolph-Macon Woman's College; Greensboro College; Lexington; Queens College; Monroe; Rockingham; Lumberton; and Roxboro.

At the opening of the present collegiate year the clubs were reorganized and a distinct step forward taken when they were placed under the supervision of Graduate Manager B. W. Barnard. This move placed Trinity's musical activities on a par in management with athletics. Under this new system the following officers of the clubs were selected: W. P. Twaddell, Director of the Glee Club, W. W. Turrentine, President, K. B. Paterson, Director of the Orchestra and H. L. Blomquist, Director of the Band.

With the reorganization complete, work was at once begun on arranging a concert and tour for the fall. One of the most entertaining programs ever presented by Trinity clubs was prepared under the direction of Mr. Twaddell and was received with delight by audiences at Trinity, Lexington, Queens College, Gastonia, Shelby, Hendersonville, Asheville, Hickory, and Greensboro College.

The following extract from a leading newspaper best reveals the successful tour: "While the program was one of intrinsic musical value and representative of the highest class of musical ability, revealing most thorough training, it was replete with novel and interesting features providing a roundly developed evening of music, humor, and general entertainment. Expression of praise for W. W. Turrentine, President; B. B. Harrison, Manager; W. P. Twaddell, Director of the Glee Club; K. B. Patterson, Director of the Orchestra; and for every member of the Trinity Musical Clubs were audible from all parts of the auditorium as the crowd reluctantly left the scene of such an unusual two hours of entertainment. There was not a dull moment in the two hours of fun-making by the clubs composed of twenty-seven just natural, lively, good-natured American college boys, during the rendition of a musical program at the Asheville High School auditorium last evening."

The folks who think our jokes are bum,
Would surely change their views
If they'd compare the jokes we print
With those that we refuse.

In the beginning God made Heaven and Earth and everything that creepeth.

This vouches for the age of the Norfolk and Southern.

Noah's boat rose high in the front yard.

"Noah," called Mrs. Noah, "Is the shanty clear?"

"Yes," he answered from the pilot house, "but this ark I've built is a chronic ill."

The March issue of the Archive appeared with four blank pages sandwiched in between the advertisements in the back. It might have been well to print the following on these pages:

"Tear out, pour on a thin coat of molasses, and use for fly paper".

Had this been done, we feel that we would have been justified in subscribing.

TO MY DAD

My lovin' Dad, I take my pen
To let you know I need a ten:
If you are short, a five will do,
I really hate to bother you.
If lacking five, just send a one,
Must go on class, your loving, Son.

MY DAD'S REPLY

There are several men in the Senior class, notably "Dick" Bundy, "T" Banks, and "Sid" Farabow, who do not know everything there is to know, but they are certainly powers in the fodder field.

"Fats"

By H. C. SPRINKLE

'Tis twelve o'clock; the lights are out;
The gang their tasks all drop,
And o'er the campus rings the shout,
"On to the Weenie Shop!"

Bohemians all, we scorn dull sleep,
Eight-thirty's never mind.
We must our nightly vigil keep
Til we have fully dined.

"On, on," you say, "with your story."
"Yes, yes," I'll tip you off.
If you'd share with us our glory,
Come, hark to Fats' "deep stoff".

"Ah, philé, pheré, phagé, hey
Mine friend, they're good and hot.—
Mit oynions, or mitout, you say?—
The best is what I'fe got."

Hail to the gang of buddies thick!
All hail to Van and Shenk,
To Wat and Bill and Reub and Dick,
To Bob and M. and Sprink!

All hail to thee, O Weenie Shop,
Thou scene of pleasant chats!
But most of all—now listen—"POP!"
All hail to jolly Fats!

Hey Bill! Co-ed

By THURMAN D. MARTIN

It seems mighty doggone funny,
  Though nothing is very alack,
The boys are never quite happy
  Unless they're around the Fraushack.

I'll say its awful appealing
  To sit on a soft davenport,
A pretty little co-ed beside you,
  You can call an all around sport.

You will always find a welcome
  From a brunette or a blonde
And there are auburn haired damsels
  If of said ones you're not fond.

As a rule, you'll find them to be
  Fascinating, with nothing lacking,
But, boys, if you consider passing,
  You had better cut out Fraushacking.

A Comedy in One Act

A fool there was, and he made his prayer
To a nerve, a line of bull, and a lot of hot air
(Apologies to Kipling)

CHARACTERS:

A Library Assistant
Two men
A fool

SCENE:

(The Trinity College Library reading room. Students sit rather lazily around the desks reading LIFE, JUDGE, WHIZ BANG, and other publications of that character. The editor of the college "weakly" peruses THE NATION for a joke to spring in the next issue. Enter two men of middle age both giving evidences of trying to starve the barber. The two strangers approach the librarian's desk.)

FIRST STRANGER: "We should like to get a copy of one of Karl Marx's books dealing with capital and labor."

(The librarian goes to the stacks. The editor, sitting near, overhears the remark and immediately pricks up his ears.)

EDITOR: (Muttering to himself) "I'll bet they're Bolsheviks. I'll get an interview from them." (As though he would throw them down and take it from their upper right hand vest pockets. Editor approaches the two strangers.)

EDITOR: "Gentlemen, I wish to speak to you outside."

(The two strangers rather reluctantly follow the editor outside the library.)

EDITOR: "Look here, aren't you Bolsheviks?"

SECOND STRANGER: "I'll say we're not. I work in the East Durham cotton mill."

(The two strangers turn abruptly, re-enter the library, secure their hats, and quit the building. The editor stands as in a lethargy. Twenty minutes later the librarian returns, wipes the dust from the book, finds that the book has been out of the stacks once before, and turns only to find the two strangers gone.)

EXTRACTS FROM THEMES ON MODERN CO-EDS

"Some are pure and saintly—much to be admired; some are vampish and annoying—to be avoided by virtuous men; some are innocent and stupid—much to be pitied; some are homely and ugly—poor victims of circumstance; some are fickle and treacherous—the cause of much wailing and gnashing of teeth."

"The co-ed selects the co-ed college mainly because the boys go there to school."

"The modern co-ed is a good student, a serious worker, and a woman interested in the problems that confront the world today."

1922

Mr. Herring was somewhat cut up the other day on Education class. Professor Holton announced at the beginning of the hour that he would only make the lesson assignment for next time and then dismiss the class. Mr. Ware, having appeared on the scene somewhat belated, and having missed Professor Holton's introductory remarks, started a volley of questions and held the class spellbound by his apparent lack of knowledge of Education for near on to twenty minutes. Mr. Herring interrupted the discussion and informed Mr. Ware that he was not conferring a favor on the class by keeping Professor Holton off the lesson—that there was no lesson. Mr. Ware apologized, but apologies would not appease the anger of Mr. Herring.

TO———

Dear little, sweet little, dark brunette,
You hold a charm that I can't forget:
Your velvety skin it delights me to touch;
And the warmth of your nature I love so much.
Though your home is an island of tropical clime;
And though you are with me but for a time;
Though my language is one that you can't understand,
You cannot mistake the touch of my hand,
You cannot misjudge the cause of my sigh,
You cannot o'erlook the tear in my eye.
So be true to the end as I know that you are
For you were a very expensive cigar.

—H. C. Sprinkle

A SUMMER'S DAY

As morning sun brings forth the rose,
And paints the flush on each dewdrop;
Then warming the cold wind that blows,
Lest a small, tender Rose-heart stop;
To you, may this be just the dawn
Of one long, happy summer's day;
With the sunshine to greet each morn.
And cheer your labor and your play.
And if, perchance, across your way
Some lengthening shadows fall,
Remember that it cannot stay;
He sends sunshine upon us all!

—E. W. McCullers

1922

Back in our Sophomore year, some of the more prominent members of our Class made a rather premature attempt at running Trinity College. The Dean said he would "suffer all of our seats to become vacant before he'd surrender one iota of authority." We objected. Objection overruled and accepted.

TO A BLUEBIRD

You came when leaves had turn'd to gold—
It seem'd I'd looked for you thus so—
With song as the bluebird of old,
Along your path sunshine you sow.
With silent song you cheered my heart
And gave me strength to win the fight.
I'll ne'er forget your gentle art,
'Til life is spent, and it is night.

—E. W. McCullers

"He That Is Exalted"

'TWAS the silent grim hour of midnight, and darkness had drawn her cloak of Stygian black over the sleeping campus of Trinity. The peace and quiet of such a solemn night was broken save only by the crunch of "O. T." Humphries shoes on the hard gravel walks and the metallic clang of his lantern as he stole from building to building on his only round of the night.

The hour was ripe when down the noiseless halls of the North section of Aycock stole one by one the members of that immortal clan, "The Ignorant Brigade." Commander Walter I. Anderson, the grand-high exalted potentate of the conclave had called this concourse to be met in his magnificent domicile in Aycock.

Seated from left to right engulfed in the sombre cape of sublime ignorance sat the members of this great order, "Broadway" Matthews, "Twat" Hoover, "Sleepy" Payne, "Silas" Greene, and "Simplicity" Burke. Did these humble servants of the mighty commander venture a word or a thought until the arrival of that truly-great official? Let it be said that they did not. Had he not been chosen for this supreme honor, the highest that this order could bestow, because of his successful evasion of all the knowledge which had been dispensed in the various classes? He had not passed a moment's work. He was a devout worshiper at the shrine of the God of Ignorance. But why should we swerve aside to extoll the virtues of the great when no ones dares attack them? Commander Anderson was above reproach.

When silence had held the assembled for a moment, the door was noiselessly opened, and, without the display of pomp and power attendant upon one of such rank in stepped the noble commander. As one, the "Ignorants" arose to do obeisance to the mighty. Having taken his seat, the commander began the meeting.

"O most worth members of the Ignorant Battalion, I have called you together to broach an important matter. Two of our brethren have forsaken the trust. We have in our midst two sons of Benedict Arnold, two buffaloes. They have violated our confidence. Secretary Green, you are hereby instructed to strike from our book the names of "Sleepy" Payne and "Twat" Hoover for flagrant violation of our confidence by passing some of their college work. Let their names be obliterated and remembered by us no more."

In vain "Twat" and "Sleepy" pleaded for mercy, but Commander, having slept only twenty-two hours out of the last twenty-four, yawned and expressed his desire for sleep. "The meeting is adjourned," ejaculated the Commander.

Before "Sleepy" or "Twat" could offer a word, the fratres had stolen from the room, and despondency claimed the two unfortunates as her own.

Time lent a soothing hand to the sharp pangs of the cruelties done the two victims of fate, and soon second examinations came around. Commander Anderson was this time the unsuspecting prey of knowledge. He ventured in six second examinations, and by some mysterious, inexplicable chance he was given a passing grade on three courses. Misfortune of the deepest dye had been inflicted upon him.

The hand of Justice moves fast, and the Commander was soon the cully of what Herbert Spencer calls "Natural punishment." The "Ignorant Brigade," then called a meeting, deprived Anderson of his command, and made public his disgrace. How swift and merciless are the deeds of the traitor meted out with due punishment. No more does he walk the campus in the deep lethargy of serene ignorance. "He that is exalted shall be humbled." (T. R. W.)

FINAL WORD

THE PUBLICATION OF THIS VOLUME OF THE CHANTICLEER HAS BEEN RENDERED RATHER DIFFICULT BY THE YEAR'S ABNORMAL CIRCUMSTANCES. IT SEEMS THAT IN THE PAST A GREAT NUMBER OF STUDENTS HAVE NOT PAID THEIR ANNUAL ASSESSMENTS. FOR THIS REASON THE CHANTICLEER HAS, AS A RULE, LOST MONEY. WE HAVE TRIED TO REMEDY THIS EVIL, AND WE TRUST THAT FUTURE GENERATIONS WILL BENEFIT BY OUR POLICIES.

ACCORDING TO THE AGREEMENT WITH THE FACULTY PUBLICATION COMMITTEE, THIS BOOK CARRIES NO PICTURE OR WRITE-UP OF ANY ORGANIZATION OR INDIVIDUAL FOR WHICH DUE SETTLEMENT HAS NOT BEEN MADE. THE COLLECTION OF ALL OUR REVENUE HAS DELAYED OUR GOING TO PRESS. WE TRUST HOWEVER, THAT THE BOOK WILL REACH YOU BEFORE THE CLOSE OF SCHOOL.
